

AFFRAY AT FOND DU LAC.

Shooting of General C. S. Hamilton by R. A. Baker—A Dangerous Affair—Origin and Particulars of the Feud.

Last Monday evening the peace and quietness and equanimity of Fond du Lac, a city that was never yet disgraced by a mob, or witness before to any worse disturbance of the peace than common assault and battery, was rudely broken in upon by an encounter between two prominent citizens who have nursed, for many years, a bitter personal feud, to wit—Robert A. Baker, Cashier of the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank, and General C. S. Hamilton, which resulted in Mr. Baker firing two shots from a pistol with which he was secretly armed, at the General, both of which hit him, one in the groin, and one in the left temple, but neither of them striking a vital part.

The affair took place on the stairs leading to the Young Men's Association Rooms in Reaping's block. The General, as President of the Association, had opened the polls, the voting commenced, several had passed in and out, and persons were running up and down stairs to and from the crowd above and below. After the voting had progressed several minutes, the General started to go down upon the stairs, and in doing so passed Mr. Baker on the stairs who was coming up. One version of the story is, that when Hamilton was two steps below him, Baker turned and hurled at him a gross epithet, Hamilton, on the impulse of the moment, wheeled and caught Baker by the collar, shook him some, and said, "You little villain, what do you mean?"

While they were in that attitude, Baker with his right hand reached into the inside left breast pocket of his coat, immediately under Hamilton's hand, and fired his pistol down through his own coat, without drawing the weapon from his pocket, the range of the barrel being, in fact, fortunately for both parties, below the General's abdomen, the ball taking effect in the groin and passing down, as the physicians suppose, the large bone of the leg. They then had a struggle for the pistol, for an instant, but the shot paralyzed the leg of the General so that he had not the use of it, and he lost his balance and fell down the stairs, rolling out at full length upon the stone step.

At the instant of his touching the step, and while he must have been at least fifteen feet from Mr. Baker, a second shot was fired, which passed through the crown and rim of Hamilton's hat, just grazing the left temple. He was assisted to his feet by P. L. Morse, asked by him and others if he was hurt, no one comprehending for some seconds that he was really wounded, though they knew two shots had been fired. Our recollection is that he made no reply to any one, he being probably unconscious of the question, though he walked alone to Leffer's store. Mr. Baker was immediately arrested by Police Officer Van Norder, and was soon taken over to the custody of the Sheriff. The only persons on the steps immediately within reach of the General and Mr. Baker, were J. W. Carpenter and Father Bishop, though there were others close by. Of course neither of these could comprehend the encounter so as to aid in preventing it, but Mr. Bishop says, as soon as the shot were fired, he grasped Mr. Baker, and said to him: "In God's name, Mr. Baker, what are you shooting here for?" We understand Mr. Baker replied: "He insulted me twice on the street to-day, and I won't stand it."

After it was known that shots had been fired and the General wounded severely, if not fatally, of course the most tremendous excitement ensued, and hot indignation freely expressed that the treasured wrath of a personal feud should make Mr. Baker so far forget what was due to the dignity, decency, and civilization of a peaceful community, and to himself as a gentleman, as to arm himself with a deadly weapon while moving among us, intending to use, or being betrayed and provoked into using it so recklessly, and to the imminent danger of the lives of his neighbors and friends in the immediate vicinity. The moral worth and stamina of Fond du Lac, of all parties, most unhesitatingly condemned the arming and shooting, whatever any might conceive had been the worthy provocation.

Mr. Baker was kept in custody by the Sheriff during the night. Tuesday he was brought before Justice Bissell, on a warrant issued by him. Before proceeding to an examination, the case was sworn away from Justice Bissell to the nearest Justice, which, in the absence of Justice Kellogg, was Justice Briggs. The Circuit Court being in session, and the District Attorney and the principal lawyers having business in the city, the examination of Mr. Baker was adjourned for nine days, and he was released on bail. The examination will be held on Thursday, the 7th of June.

AERIAL NAVIGATION.

The Voyagers Heard From—Their Piece of Landing—Particulars of the Trip.

Dr. Andrews and Mr. Plumb, whose departure from this city on the afternoon of Tuesday last, to make another trial of Dr. Andrews' flying ship, was described in yesterday's Tribune, have again returned to the city. We have received from Mr. Plumb the particulars of their voyage. The greatest altitude attained was about one and a half miles, which carried them above the lower stratum of clouds into a clear atmosphere, with a thick curtain of clouds above and below them. Through the occasional openings of these they could see the surface of the earth plainly. Mr. Plumb describes the appearance of the fleecy white clouds lying far below them as resembling snow-drift, rolling along over the bright green grass on the surface of the earth.

As we anticipated, the newly constructed rudder proved inefficient. Almost at the first attempt to bring it into requisition the cords became jammed, and the vessel was for a time entirely unmanageable. Afterwards, they regained partial control of her, but the steering apparatus was manifestly inadequate for successful working of the ship. Some other mechanical faults were also discovered, which will be remedied before another trip.

Finding that they could not succeed in the main object of the trip, the voyagers concluded to make a pleasure jaunt of it, and after sailing about for some time they finally landed in safety near the village of Oyster Bay, about twenty-eight miles from the place whence they started.

We understand that the necessary alterations of the vessel will be made at once, and another trial undertaken within a few days.—New York Tribune.

Arrival and Reception of General Santa Anna and Suite in New York.

Numerous persons congregated yesterday afternoon at the pier foot of Liberty street, to welcome to our metropolis the distinguished Mexican General Don Antonio Lopez de Santa Anna. At a little after twelve o'clock M. the steamer Red Jacket, from Elizabethport, arrived, bringing on board the celebrated brigand, who was accompanied by his staff and suite, among whom were the following gentlemen:—

Senior Don Abigail Lozano, private secretary to the General; Senior Don Abrabaut Baz, Senior Don Jacobo Baz, and Colonel Don A. L. de Santa Anna (a son to the General).

As soon as the General landed, and after exchanging salutations with the friends who were there to welcome him on his arrival, he and his suite drove to the splendid mansion in West Twenty-ninth street, near Fifth avenue, carefully prepared for the accommodation and comfort of the General.
